

SUBCONTRACTING SERVICES

7Tao Subcontracting services:

Delegation of tasks: A main contractor delegates a specific task to a subcontractor to help complete a larger project.

Specialized expertise: Subcontractors are typically hired for their specialized skills, which the main contractor's internal team may not possess.

Contractual agreement: The relationship between the main contractor and the subcontractor is defined by a legally binding contract.

Project-based and temporary: Subcontracting arrangements are often for a limited period and tied to the completion of a particular project or task.

Liability remains with the contractor: The main contractor is ultimately responsible to the client for the entire project, including the work performed by the subcontractor.

